NILES PEOPLE PREPARE TO FETE THANKSGIVING IN TRADITIONAL MANNER

Family Dinners and Quiet Rest to Mark Activi- ties Tomorrow

With the advent of another Thanksgiving day tomorrow, Niles people, with the entire nation, will pause from their everyday activities to fittingly observe the occasion in traditional manner. It will be a day of quiet rest and thankfulness, marked by enjoyment of bounteous dinners at which, as has always been the custom, the king of American fowl, the Turkey, suffers heavy casualties.

All business houses in Niles will be closed for the day and many of the residents will entertain guests at dinner at their homes, or be guests at other homes. There will be no special church services at the Congregational church, the Thanksgiving services being held last Sunday. The Episcopal church at Centerville, however, will hold special Thanksgiving services in the morning which are expected to draw many from the township.

There will be special Thanksgiving services at the Niles Catholic church at nine o'clock on Thanksgiving morning. Father James McCaul will be in charge. Many dinners have been planned by Niles people, both at home and otherwise.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Ellis will entertain at dinner the following: Mr. and Mrs. George Sperbeck, of Alameda; Mr. and Mrs. L. Sharmann and family, of Centerville; and Mr. and Mrs. Carel Locker and son, of Auburn.

A family dinner will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ellsworth, with the following guests expected to be present: Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Siebert, of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ellsworth, of Berkeley; Mayor and Mrs. Oliver Ellsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and daughter, of San Mateo.

Mr. and Mrs. William Helm will entertain with a turkey dinner at their home with John Helm, of Richmond, Irene Foster, of Sacramento, Mrs. S. Whittlesey and two daughters, Madeline and Margaret, of Richmond, as guests.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Fournier will entertain relatives from Oakland at a family dinner at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Marble will eat their turkey dinner in San Francisco, where they plan to spend the day.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bristow and daughter will have dinner at Bristow's parents' home in Marysville, where they plan to spend the day.

POLICE RADIO SET USED BY HUGO RADBRUCH

City police cars have nothing on the machine owned and used by Deputy Sheriff Hugo Radbruch during his patrol and investigation work in Washington township as the result of a short wave radio set being installed in his car last week.

News of criminal acts can now be communicated to Deputy Sheriff Radbruch when he cannot be reached by telephone.

The radio set, installed on the steering shaft of Radbruch's machine, picks up information from the Berkeley police radio station, KSW, which is sent out to other police cars in Berkeley and Oakland. Information from the sheriff's office is sent to the Berkeley police station by a telephone and is broadcast, according to the deputy sheriff. Thus information concerning stolen cars, etc., can be communicated directly to Radbruch immediately after known and while he is out on duty.

If the experiment in Washington township is successful, the sheriff's office plans to install a similar radio set on the car of Deputy Sheriff H. L. Patten, of Livermore, it is reported.

Apparently thinking that the proposed road through the nursery grounds was already completed, John Faria, of Newark, drove his car through a greenhouse last Thursday night when he failed to negotiate the curve in the Alvarado road before it enters onto the main highway by the California Nursery at Niles. The driver was not injured, nor the car damaged, but several trees, shrubs, and plants were demolished by the impact of the machine.

SENATOR BREED'S ROAD PLAN FAVORED BY HIGHWAY GROUP

Southern Alameda County League Passes Resolution at Hayward

A resolution in favor of Senator Arthur H. Breed's proposal of including certain main county roads in the secondary highway system was unanimously adopted at the second meeting of the southern Alameda County Highway league in Hayward last Thursday night. The resolution will be forwarded to Governor James Rolph, Jr.

E. A. Ellsworth, W. B. Kirk, and Robert Blacow, members of the Niles Chamber of Commerce road committee, attended the meeting from Niles.

At the first meeting of the league, recently organized, thirty-three roads and highways in southern Alameda county were endorsed by the group for proposed inclusion into the state highway system. These total 246 miles. The bill proposed by Senator Breed, and to be introduced at the next session of the state legislature calls for approximately 2900 miles of state highway roads in northern California. Alameda county claims one-tenth of this or 290 miles.

It was decided by the league to extend the portion of East 14th street recommended for inclusion in the state system from the south boundary of San Leandro to Cypress street in Oakland. The entire length of the street south of San Leandro and including

Students Seek Indian Data In Niles Vicinity

Hoping to discover information of strange religious rituals practiced by an Indian tribe which at one time made the western end of Livermore valley as their abode, a group of University of California students headed by Dr. C. A. DuBois, of the department of anthropology, have been conducting surveys throughout southern Alameda county.

Several descendants of the tribe are thought to have been living in the vicinity of Niles and Mission San Jose. The customs of the tribe were handed down many generations in spite of the fact that members were scattered by the arrival of white settlers, according to the students. The survey revealed, however, that although there are a few Indians left in the Livermore Valley, none of this particular tribe still exist.

Reverend William Attwood Points Out Reasons For Thankfulness

Contrasting the difficult conditions which confronted the Pilgrims and early colonists with the advantages enjoyed by the people of the nation today, Reverend William Attwood, pastor of the St. James Episcopal church, Centerville, delivered an inspiring Thanksgiving address to a large and appreciative group at the Niles Chamber of Commerce luncheon Monday.

In spite of the hard times of the last three years, there are many things for which we can be thankful, Reverend Attwood pointed out.

First of all, the pastor stated, we should be thankful for the marvelous amount of sunshine and healthful climate people in this section of the state enjoy. In contrast with the severe climate which faced early colonists of New England during winter months, and which people in certain sections of the nation have to face today, this is indeed a blessing to people of this community, according to the pastor.

The wonderful opportunities for education offered in this state in comparison with the early settlers of this country, was cited by the speaker as a condition worthy of earnest thankfulness.

"We should also be thankful for the spirit of religious toleration which prevails in the nation today," said Reverend Attwood in extolling the present day spirit in which members of all churches are found working together in striving to bring relief to the needy. This spirit of religious toleration did not exist during the early days of this country and is a significant advantage for which to be thankful, he pointed out.

In spite of the severe economic difficulties which prevail today, the spirit of helpfulness and the spirit of thanksgiving which are so apparent among the people, particularly opportune to Thanksgiving Day should be the occasion for thankfulness, stated Reverend Attwood.

"After all, it is the spirit that counts and which makes Thanksgiving Day" were the pastor's words in closing his address which made a visible impression upon his audience.

President F. V. Jones expressed the thanks and appreciation of the chamber for Reverend Attwood's inspirational talk, and urged those present to observe Thanksgiving Day in the spirit of thankfulness which had been stressed by the pastor.

A. J. Petsche presented a report to the chamber of a citizens relief committee meeting in Oakland Friday which F. V. Jones and he had attended. Representatives of various organizations in Alameda county were present at the meeting which had been called for the purpose of discussing the $3,000,000 bond issue proposed by the board of supervisors for county indigent relief and to be voted upon by the people at a special election December 20.

Petsche reported that it had been the consensus of opinion of those at the meeting that the bond issue was the only means of meeting the relief problem this winter. It was pointed out at the gathering that there were at present approximately 53,000 unemployed in the county expecting help and the number was expected to swell to 100,000 by the last of December.

NOTED CAREER OF PUBLIC OFFICIAL ENDED BY DEATH

Charles Heyer, Member of Board of Supervisors, Dies at Hayward

After a long and distinguished career in public office, Charles Heyer, member of the Alameda county board of supervisors, died at his home in Hayward Friday night.

An illness which originated about a year ago finally culminated in Heyer's death. He was critically ill last spring and little hope was held for his recovery at that time, but he rallied and apparently seemed in good health during part of this summer. He was taken ill again, however, early this fall and never recovered.

Funeral services for the deceased were held from the Elks building in Oakland Monday afternoon with officers and members of Oakland Elks club in charge. Supervisor Ralph V. Richmond, who served with Heyer on the board of supervisors attended the rites from Niles. Interment took place at the Oakland columbarium.

Heyer had served nearly eighteen years as county supervisor, being elected to that office in 1914. Previous to that time he was mayor of Hayward for approximately twenty years.

The deceased was born in Alvarado in 1863 and his parents moved to Hayward the following year where Heyer received his early education.

During the time he served in public office, Heyer achieved a meritorious record. He was chairman of the county board from 1926 to 1930 and was president of the California State Supervisors association in 1927. He was widely known as a champion of good roads. He has served as chairman of the Alameda county hospital committee since 1915.

Heyer held interest in many business enterprises throughout Alameda county and was well-known for the active part he played in all civic enterprises.

The deceased was regarded with affection and esteem by many for his private philanthropies and the aid rendered to the unfortunate. He will long be remembered by thousands of people in southern Alameda county for his deeds of personal kindness, helpfulness, and consideration.

Heyer was a member of a large number of civic and fraternal organizations.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Katherine L. Heyer; a brother, William M. Heyer; and two sisters, Mrs. Vincent J. Strobel and Mrs. Lena Palmtag. He was the uncle of Charles Heyer, Jr., Constable Vincent J. Strobel, Leo Palmtag and Mrs. Christel Russell.

IMPRESSIVE RITES TO MARK DEDICATION OF NEW FLAG POLE

High School Students Will Present Program At Ceremonies

With the erection of the civic flag pole in front of the Centerville fire department house completed last week, the Centerville Lions Club is now planning for the dedication ceremonies tentatively set for Wednesday, November 23, according to Frank Madruga, president.

Students of Washington Union high school will present the program on the day of dedication which is expected to be an impressive affair. The high school band will provide music at the rites and the students will march from the school to the scene of the dedication. A speaker to present a proper dedication address also is planned.

It has been announced that a new and beautiful flag for the pole will be purchased and raised on the day of the dedication. The Centerville Chamber of Commerce will donate the flag. F. T. Dusterberry has stated. Although the Chamber of Commerce is no longer functioning actively in Centerville, enough money remains in the treasury to purchase a new flag, according to chamber officials.

Under the direction of Joe Jason, new curbing around the site where the pole is located was constructed Monday of this week. Jason also had a bottle containing all the names of Lions Club members implanted in the concrete base of the flag pole in order that future generations may know who were the original members of the club which sponsored the civic enterprise.

The whist party held by the Lions Friday night at Parish Hall for the purpose of raising funds to pay for the flag pole was a success, Harold De Leon, chairman of the committee in charge, has reported. Approximately $40 was realized at the affair.

At the meeting of the Centerville den held last Wednesday night, the Lions heard an interesting and informational address on the San Francisco bay bridge delivered by Horace Thompson, city manager of Berkeley. The speaker pointed out the advantages that will accrue to Alameda county when work on the bridge begins and is completed. Thompson was obtained as a speaker through the efforts of Harry Elsey.

Castro street in Hayward had been recommended previously.

Practically all the main traveled roads in Washington township have been recommended for inclusion into the state system.

Cooperation of all districts in Alameda county in presenting their plans of laterals for the San Francisco bay bridge was urged by Ray Glassley, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. Oakland civic leaders had a strong representation among the fifty persons present at the gathering.

It was pointed out at the session that after allowing thirty miles for bay shore and other proposed highways, here is still enough mileage left to arrange needed short cuts and entrance highways.

James M. Cassidy, recently elected assemblyman, was present at the meeting and said he wanted a clear understanding of the people's needs before the opening of the legislature.

Parker F. Bramman, of Castro Valley, president of the league, who presided for a time over the meeting, urged all districts with highway projects to join in presenting necessary measures at the opening of the state legislature.

George E. Sheldon, chairman of the league's executive board, took charge of the meeting after Bramman. He announced that construction of the Bay bridge is expected to begin within ninety days.

Considerable interest was shown in the rhythm band recently organized by Mrs. Crane, which was made up of twentyseven children of ages varying from four years up. Numbers rendered by this group were highly applauded.

Miss Lorraine Peterson was especially pleasing to the audience in her singing of the popular vocal number, "A Great Big Bunch of You."

One of the outstanding hits of the evening was the accordion playing of little Albert Silva, four-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Silva, of Niles. Although he has had no musical training, Albert admirably rendered several numbers on his little accordion.

Honors were awarded Mary Virginia Bristow and Yvonne Vieux for showing the most progress during the year. Honors also were bestowed upon Lorraine Peterson, Kathleen Cleary, and Laura Lee Zwissig for high averages throughout the year.

For good behavior during piano classes, little Miss Dorothy Domini, member of the rhythm band, also was awarded an honor.

Amador Dons Lose Fighting Game To Hayward Grid Squad

Score of Gridiron Tussle Is Sixteen to Nothing at Final Gun

The fighting Dons of Amador lived up to their name when they played Hayward recently. They fought from the starting whistle till the final gun—fought skillfully and well under other handicaps than size and numbers that Hayward had to offer. Odds were ten to one against their winning, yet they went in with a determination to win.

The Dons, although outweighed by their opponents, gave them a good battle, and the Hayward boys had to fight hard for their victory. The Dons got several opportunities and had they scored on them they would have had a chance to tie the game.

In the first few minutes of play through power plays featuring Captain Bob Silva, Freddie Dutra and Normine LaButte the ball was brought up to within a few yards of the goal line with only two yards to go on the third down. Halfback Ed Nott called off a pass on the third down which was intercepted by Hayward. And thus Amador lost its first opportunity to score within the first few minutes of play.

Hayward scored a touchdown in the second quarter, a field goal in the third quarter and a second touchdown in the last quarter. A conversion following this last touchdown brought the score up to Hayward, sixteen, and Amador, nothing.

In the last three minutes Captain Silva went through the line for large gains and in a few downs had the ball in scoring position. The Dons called for time out, and with a minute left to play the Dons continued with their line attack. The final gun sounded before the Dons could cash in on their last opportunity.

Nott was suffering from two bruised shoulders and his passes didn't click as well as they should have. Dutra, the Amador star fullback, was recovering from the flu and was not very strong physically. LaButte, an Amador halfback, had an injured thumb. The entire back field had to play the whole game as the Don back field reserves averaged less than 125 pounds per man.

There were but few line substitutions, and these were made to allow the players a moment's rest and a chance to recover from the Hayward bruising attack. Hardy, at center, had been suffering from a sore shoulder, and other linemen had minor ailments, but the sideline had no appeal for them. This was their last game and they couldn't get back in soon enough.

In an interview with Coach Patterson, he stated: "I am proud of the way they played and will miss the senior boys who will graduate in June. The second team reserves and the minute men have done a lot to make this season successful and they deserve a lot of respect and appreciation."

The lineup last Thursday was as follows: Howell and F. Peters, ends; Hughes and Gibson, tackles; Davis and Dolstra, guards; Hardy, center; Nott and Captain Silva, halves; LaButte, quarter; Dutra, full.

Morrison Green, Scoutmaster, has inaugurated a new scout program for Troop No. 1, which seems to be stimulating new interest in the group. Green recently completed a training course sponsored by the Oakland Area Council, from which many new ideas were obtained, and which will be put into the program of Troop No. 1, of Niles.

A meeting of the District Committee is scheduled for Friday evening, Nov. 25th, to be held in Judge Norris' court, at Centerville. The meeting is an important one and it is hoped that every member will be present.

There are rumors of a Troop 2 in Centerville. Here's hoping that the rumors prove true.

A court of honor for Niles troops is scheduled for the early part of December. E. G. Brinkmeyer, chairman of Troop 2 committee, will preside.

It was "Bing's" first day on the job after a two weeks' honeymoon.

The lineup for the alumni was: Willingham, Roy and Harold Arendt, Myron Azevedo and Francis Nevis, forwards; Bruce Powers and Jimmie Trimmingham, centers; Ed Vervais, Ermino Soito and Stanley Rathbone, guards. All are Pleasanton boys.

Low PUMP EFFICIENCY is like a slipping clutch

-IT TAKES MORE POWER

WHEN you discover "boarder cows" in your herd or "boarder hens" in your flock, you wisely get rid of them. When your automobile clutch begins to slip, you check the trouble to save gasoline and to bring the car back to its normal power and speed.

California farmers and orchardists are fast learning that low pump efficiency is like the slipping clutch. It wastes power. An inefficient pump sends irrigating costs skyward. The best way to reduce irrigating costs is to increase pump efficiency.

What is the efficiency of your irrigation pump? Have you the proper type of equipment for your particular needs and is it properly installed? Does it operate near its designed capacity or is its efficiency cut down by worn parts or variation in the water level? The answers to these questions will determine whether or not you can save power and reduce your irrigating costs.

The possibility of reducing irrigating costs is strongly in your favor, for experts estimate that the great majority of irrigation pumps in California are not more than 35% efficient.

Get a reliable engineer to test your pump. It may be wasting from 15% to 45% of the power used. This waste can be avoided.

Our Rural Power Representative will gladly furnish you with the names of reliable pump engineers to make the test for you. For further information, write or telephone our nearest office.
